Where you reside and your legal domicile can be a tricky subject when it comes to protecting your wealth. Your domicile and tax residency status can impact upon any tax, trust and succession planning you undertake and with the many layers of anti-avoidance legislation more and more individuals are having to seek specialist help when deciding upon their domicile and residency status.

Whether you are looking to clarify your UK and foreign tax status, simply review your options or wish to seek help to mitigate risk and tax liabilities for future generations, we invite you to join us and one of our Tax Directors, Dion Laycock, on 17 October 2019 when he will be looking at the latest domestic and international developments relating to residency and domicile.

Speaker

Our speaker for this session is Dion Laycock one of ABG's Tax Directors.

Dion is a private client tax specialist and has been advising clients on residence and domicile issues for more than 20 years.

HMRC have markedly increased their enquiries into offshore tax arrangements and Dion regularly assists taxpayers with disputes in this area.

Dion is a new addition to our team, he is an excellent communicator and is always well received by his audience.
